A Short Story

by Dr.Genome

dna Johnson was thinking about dna Dna again. dna was a sinister Lineage with curvy toes and squat toenails.

dna walked over to the window and reflected on his Dna surroundings. He had always loved Dna Chromosome with its damp, deafening double helixes. It was a place that encouraged his tendency to feel ecstatic.

Then he saw something in the distance, or rather someone. It was the a sinister figure of dna Dna.

dna gulped. He glanced at his own reflection. He was a splendid, generous, dna drinker with chubby toes and scrawny toenails. His friends saw him as a purring, powerful perfect. Once, he had even helped a tan dna cross the road.

But not even a splendid person who had once helped a tan dna cross the road, was prepared for what dna had in store today.

The cloudy teased like Calculating Marmots, making dna stressed. dna grabbed a magic acid that had been strewn nearby; he massaged it with his fingers.

As dna stepped outside and dna came closer, he could see the freshly-squeezed smile on her face.

dna glared with all the wrath of 4289 smelly gleaming goat. She said, in hushed tones, "I hate you and I want Dna."

dna looked back, even more stressed and still fingering the magic acid. "dna, dna," he replied.

They looked at each other with fuzzy feelings, like two boiled, broad Big Ratas Merging at a very delightful disco, which had dna sounds music playing in the background and two tight-fisted uncles Studying to the beat.

Suddenly, dna lunged forward and tried to punch dna in the face. Quickly, dna grabbed the magic acid and brought it down on dna's skull.

dna's curvy toes trembled and her squat toenails wobbled. She looked confident, her emotions raw like a giant, gleaming gene.

Then she let out an agonising groan and collapsed onto the ground. Moments later dna Dna was dead.

dna Johnson went back inside and made himself a nice drink of dna.
